BELLE GLADE, FL.

Royal's founder dies at 82

BELLE GLADE—Funeral services were held this week for George L. Royal, Sr., 82, who turned a small clapboard store in Lake Harbor into the major retail outlet which bears his name.

Royal, of 609 E. Canal St., was the founder and president emeritus of Royal's Inc. and other associated companies. He died at his home Saturday following a brief illness.

Considered the "father of Lake Okeechobee retailing," his Royal's Department Store became a household word for shoppers in the Glades, stretching from Belle Glade to Clewiston, LaBelle, Okeechobee, Immokalee and into central Florida at Lake Placid.

His diversified retailing company included development of real estate and shopping centers throughout the region.

More recently, the company expanded into a chain of furniture retail stores and last year entered the retail manufactured home market with four new locations.

Royal and his wife of 57 years, Sue, began modestly near Lake Harbor in a small clapboard store where they sold groceries and mercantile to land-clearing pioneers, farmers and workers on the plant water drainage projects of south Lake Okeechobee. As the store grew into the sprawling company that would always bear his name, Royal became known as a hard worker with a keen business sense.

The Crossland, Ga. native had a significant impact on his adopted home of Belle Glade. He was a recognized influence on local race relations and served as the first president of the Inter-Racial Council of Belle Glade.

Royal came to south Florida after graduation from Sparks Collegiate Institute, Moultrie Business College and the University of Georgia Business College, all in his native state.

He and his wife were married in 1928 and settled in the still developing south Lake Okeechobee region after a business venture in the coastal Kelsey City was virtually blown away in a hurricane.

THE PORT MAYACA CEMETERY soon will get a sprinkler system for its new addition. Last week those instrumental in the project gathered at Belle Glade City Hall. Seated, from left, are Joann Baughman of the Belle Glade Garden Study Club, Doris Wetherington of the Pahokee Garden

Club and Alene McAllister of the Belle Glade Garden Club. Standing are board members C.R. Wetherington and Henry Office, Belle Glade Mayor Thomas Altman, South Bay Mayor Clarence Anthony, Pahokee Mayor Duncan Padgett and Board Chairman Dudley Barnes.

Cemetery board officially obtains project funds

BY GENE ANTONIO
BELLE GLADE—With the money for improvements to the Port Mayaca Cemetery securely in hand, the cemetery board is proceeding with plans.

Earlier in the year the board approached the cities of Belle Glade, South Bay and Pahokee, asking them to contribute to installing a sprinkler system at the cemetery's new addition.

The cities readily agreed to making the donations. Although the cemetery is owned by the cities this is the first time in the cemetery's history it has gone to the cities for funds.

The board determined it would need about $5,600 for the work. The board was approached some time ago by the president of the Belle Glade and Pahokee Garden Clubs about getting fresh water to the addition.

South Bay cuts back street paving plans

BY GENE ANTONIO
SOUTH BAY—The city's plans to make repairs to three streets next year are being cut by one third.

City Manager Max Harrelle told the city commissioners Tuesday there will not be enough funds from Community Development next year to do work on 6th Avenue.

The city had planned to work on Southwest 7th Avenue and Southwest 1st Street as well as 6th. There will be money for two streets, instead of three as the city had hoped.

Harrelle also said that by next week, weather permitting, all work on Northwest 6th and 7th Avenues and Northwest 1st Street will be completed.

All the work on the streets except for paving has been completed.

The city got some bad news from the Post Office. The city owns the building and has leased the roof will have to be replaced.

Harrelle called the needed work "an unexpected expense." He noted the roof is in such bad shape it can't be patched.

The city will advertise for bids next week.

In other business, the city heard a report from Pete Pimentel of Barker Osha and Anderson. He gave the city his recommendations on the 1985 proposed land use plan changes.

The plans were for the most part accepted by city leaders. There was some question about the parcels of land in the area of South Bay Growers and the fertilizer plant. Commissioner Don Tanner believes the entire area should remain in the light industry category.

Pimentel pointed out that with a residential area near by there should be some kind of a "buffer." He also noted that access to the interior of the land must be provided.

The commissioners agreed to plan for the land as commercial with the railroad track as the dividing line.

The plans are not for zoning changes but for planning the city's growth. Pimentel will report back to the commission with the changes.

The commission voted to readvertise for bids to install lighting at Cox Park. When advertised the first time only one bid was received. It was over $10,000 higher than the city engineer's estimate.

The city accepted the bid for three radar units for the police department. The $3,500 bid came from MPH Industries in Kansas. Federal revenue sharing funds will be used.

Mayor Clarence Anthony appointed Commissioner Dorothy Davnis and City Manager Harrelle to serve on the Housing Committee in conjunction with the funds recently received from the county.

Vice-mayor Marshall will serve as the alternate.

Overtime a dirty word, budgets cut

BY GENE ANTONIO
BELLE GLADE—Mayor Thomas Altman didn't wash anybody's mouth out with soap, but at last week's budget session "overtime" became the dirtiest word in the language.

As department heads brought their pleas trooped into the City Commission conference room they were met by one of two questions: "Why so much overtime?" or "How can we get rid of this overtime?"

The mayor, backed up by the commissioners, answered his own question—cuts in overtime as well as in a number of other areas.

Mayor Altman made it clear right from the beginning that "the city doesn't have the luxury of a cushion in this budget."

He said, "We're in pretty tough shape and we have to get this budget in balance."

So to get the budget back into balance from its $200,000 in red ink, the city searched out and found a number of ways "to skin the cat."

As department heads brought their pleas and arguments to the commission they came up against some stern replies.

Fire Chief Jessie Womack argued that his department's overtime is dictated by unforeseen activities. He said the mayor's proposed $15,000 reduction in overtime was "an awful big cut."

But the mayor countered that there are two vacancies in the fire department. He said if the department is kept up to full strength there would be less need for overtime.

Safety Director Bill Mathis argued that there are a number of special events such as the marathon and Black Gold which call for overtime.

The mayor dropped his request for a $15,000 cut to $10,000 and told the fire chief, "I've been pretty easy with your department."

The commissioners and the mayor came down hard on the Public Works Department in a number of areas.

They wanted to know from Frank Green, Public Works Director, why vehicles in his department require an average of $1,000 each in maintenance each year.

They wanted to know why when they drive by an intersection there are "eight guys leaning on shovels." And they wanted to know why building and grounds workers and sanitation workers have to work overtime.

Green explained that the Public Works Department is "spread so thin it's ridiculous."

He cited work done at the rock pit, the marina and other work not related to his department.

The mayor said, "That's not all year, that work should be over next month."

Green countered, "It should but next month never comes."

The mayor requested a cut of $42,000 in overtime. He said, "We've been cutting $500 here and there."

Commissioner Charles Goodlett warned, "We're going to get backlash; we're going to hear from people on this one."

City garage complaints heard

BY GENE ANTONIO
BELLE GLADE—As city leaders came down hard on the city garage at last week's budget session, Public Works Director Frank Green explained the problems faced there.

He said, "You have to realize that a garage, any garage, is unique. When someone brings a vehicle to a garage they're mad to begin with."

Green commented that this is the case at any garage but more so at the city garage.

He noted that mechanics there "have to work on everything." There are no specialists. Mechanics work on all phases of work on many types of vehicles.

CLARENCE ANTHONY

South Bay mayor joins Adams' staff

SOUTH BAY—Mayor Clarence Anthony is expected to accept an offer by County Commission Chairman Ned Adams to be his aide on the coast.

Anthony said it's "almost official" that he would become the commissioner's aide. That would mean resigning from his present position with NOAH.

The move would not, however, effect his status as mayor. He noted that the position of aide is chosen by the commissioner himself, it is not voted on by the county commission.

Anthony is familiar with the area he will be serving. He went to college in Boca Raton and lived and worked in that area for some time.

Anthony will be the second Glades person to serve as aide to Commissioner Adams. Walter Rashley will continue as aide in the Glades.

Miller Bros. to perform

BELLE GLADE—The Miller Brothers, John, Troy and Lem, will be the featured guests at the Youth Happening to be held at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center.

This interdenominationally sponsored event is scheduled for August 26-28.

The youth services will feature singing and sharing God's Word, as the trio lift up Jesus Christ.

From the Tampa Bay area, these young men have received wide acclaim for their gifted musical abilities.

Lemuel, who holds one third-degree and two fourth-degree black belts in karate, will give demonstrations of his award winning skills in the martial arts.

Young people of all ages are invited to attend the services which begin each evening at 7:30.

Budget

The mayor argued that with the doubling of the gasoline tax there's a dependable source of income for the next four years.

The Sanitation Department, part of Public Works, was cut deeply too. Even though the department head argued that the trash situation has increased in the past year, the mayor wanted overtime cut from $180,000 to $130,000.

Commissioner George Goforth, in backing the mayor, argued that the trucks purchased last year should have made the garbage collection service more efficient.

Last year the city spent $11,000 in overtime to the Department of Buildings and Grounds. City leaders wanted to know "Why we now grass on overtime?"

City Manager W.E. "Tom" Strang said, "Every department needs new schedules."

The mayor also wanted the budget for lubricants and fuel cut in the Buildings and Grounds Department.

He said, "If we're going to cut hours we can cut fuel."

Green replied, "You've got to cut grass too."

Strang indicated the grass might have to get a little higher.

The two-day budget session was not all one-sided. There was give-and-take within the strictures of what all agree is going to be "a tough budget year."

As part of the budget policy department heads who plan to exceed what they plan to spend in any line item must ask permission of the city manager. If he feels the expense warrants being brought before the commission then he will bring it to them.

A major agreement came with the Police Department. In a compromise the department will get an additional four officers for a newly-created patrol zone.

The department wanted a fifth officer and three clerks but that was denied.

The city also asked the department to trim down its $110,000 overtime tab of last year.

All the payroll cuts are in anticipation of the Florida Fair Labor Standards ruling expected to greatly increase future payments to city workers for overtime work.

In addition to the cuts made to departments, the city also cut its budget for grants and aids.

Grants and aids are the voluntary donations the city makes to organizations throughout the year.

In the past donations were made almost as a matter of course when requests were brought to the commission.

That ended this year. The only grant which remains the same is the money given each year to Wee Care Day Care Center.

Wee Care will get $5,000 and $2,000 will be left in the budget to be divided up by other parties asking for donations.

There was talk of eliminating aids completely.

Commissioner Goodlett said he questioned the whole procedure of giving away taxpayer money.

Commissioner Daniel Bythwood said, "You should give aid if you can afford it."

No department, agency or office in the city was spared.

Even the Municipal Library was told to cut back on the amount it spends on books.

The mayor said, "To increase anything is out of the question in any department."

Garage

This is not the first time the garage has come under fire. Year after year the city complains that the level of service at the garage is poor.

Mayor Thomas Altman said last week, "Something isn't right. Other departments want their own mechanics and department heads are complaining. I hear this year after year."

Green said the garage doesn't attract the best mechanics in the world because the wages are not on par with private industry.

On top of this problem is the variety of equipment the mechanics have to work on. The city owns 206 vehicles powered by either gasoline or diesel. These include everything from chain saws and mowers to pumps, tractors, cars and trucks.

These vehicles are used by the city's 240 employees. Green noted that each department believes its vehicle deserves priority.

The mayor indicated the garage has a problem with "customer relations."

But Commissioner George Goforth believes there's more to the problem than public relations.

He said, "Half the stuff they work on is ready for the scrap heap."

He suggested that faarming out some of the work, such as electric work, might be cheaper in the long run.

The discussion began when the mayor had questioned Green's hiring of a mechanic recently in light of the complaints at the garage.

Green explained that when a qualified mechanic "comes down the pike" he grabs him.

The board has received a bid of $5,000 for the work. This would involve getting water out of the St. Lucie Canal.

Board member C.R. Wetherington told the three mayors last week that there is still a possibility the water could be obtained from a well.

But that poses a problem. The iron found in well water at Port Mayaca could in time ruin the monuments.

It looks now that the canal will be the source of the water. Wetherington said, "That's the route we want to go." The next step is to get permits before work begins.

The St. Lucie Canal is across the highway from the cemetery and pipes will have to go under the highway.

Wetherington explained to the three mayors that according to the cemetery's charter, "We have the right to assess the cities for the upkeep of the cemetery."

He recalled the early days of the cemetery. The city of Pahokee tied to take care of it and that didn't work out.

Over the years more property was added. The trustees are now thinking of adding up to 10 acres to the cemetery.

Wetherington said there is a real possibility that some type of assessment or trust fund would have to be set up.

He said, "We're not selling enough lots and there aren't enough burials" to sustain the cemetery without help.

Selling the cemetery has been suggested, but the board is opposed to selling. Wetherington explained, "If we sold they'd have control and they could change what they want."

The board would like more acreage at the cemetery. They note that the sugar company and Osceola Farms have land adjoining the cemetery that might be purchased.

Presently people are not able to purchase lots at Port Mayaca and have to buy lots at cemeteries on the coast.

Belle Glade Mayor Thomas Altman has said in the past that thought should be given to a perpetual care fund at Port Mayaca.

He noted, "Barring expansion, all lots will eventually be sold and then there'll be no revenue."

Board Chairman Dudley Barnes said the idea of a perpetual care fund has been discussed but there are a number of technical difficulties involved because the cemetery is owned by three cities.

The mayor said last week "the city is interested in discussing the cemetery." He added, "We want to be educated as to our responsibility."

The mayor suggested a meeting be scheduled to further discuss the cemetery.

George Royal

Royal also ran a lumber company and was a partner in another retail company before founding Royal's.

A recognized lay church leader, Royal was active in the development of Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Ky., where he served as a trustee for the last 25 years. He also belonged to the Committee of 100 of Emory University in Atlanta.

A Methodist, Royal was a member of the Official Board of the Methodist Church, the District Board of Church Extension, the advisory board of the Oriental Missionary Society and an associate lay leader. He was also active in the Salvation Army.

Royal served as president of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, which would years later name him Belle Glade "Citizen of the Year" in 1978. The Chamber also named Royal and his wife as marshalls for the Black Gold Jubilee Celebration and parade.

Royal was also a member of the Belle Glade Rotary Club, serving as president and remaining active in the civic club's activities.

His community involvement included more than 20 years as a director of the local hospital governing board. He was also a member of the Board of Directors at the First National Bank of Palm Beach, a director of the Palm Beach Cancer Society and a member of the Palm Beach Crippled Children's Society.

In addition to his wife Sue, Royal is survived by two sons, Larry of Belle Glade, and Charles, of Royal Palm Beach; two brothers, Floyd Royal of Clewiston and Crawford Royal of South Bay; a sister, Mrs. Lee Puckett of N.

Palm Beach; seven grandchildren, Susie Worth of Boynton Beach, Mike Royal and Chuck Royal of Belle Glade, Jeff Royal of Clewiston, Scott Royal, Steve Royal and Derrick Royal, all of Royal Palm Beach and one great-grandson, Brandon Royal of Belle Glade.

Funeral services were held Monday at Belle Glade's United Methodist Church, with long time friend Dr. Torry Johnson, the Rev. F.T. Mason and the Rev. Henry Fuse officiating. Burial followed at Ridgeland Cemetery in Clewiston.

Honorary pallbearers for the service included George Dupree, Larry Parrish, Roy Birch, Gordon Allen, Mel Kooper, Tom Johnston, Phil Prescott, A.P. Baldree, Jim Powell, Carol John Royal, Frank Royal and Raymond Huebner.

In lieu of flowers, the family requested that donations be made to the Diabetic Research Institute at 7525 N.W. 74th St. Miami 33166 to fund research and treatment of juvenile diabetes.

Taking the sport out of sports

Professional baseball: a little boys game played by grown men.

The innocence of that definition, dating back to the days of Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb, has given way to an era of calculated self interest.

That's not to say that there haven't always been high-salaried players and contract disputes. It's just that they now seem more prevalent.

Today's sports pages are filled not with accounts of athletic accomplishment, but the latest on the contract fights.

And the blight is not just limited to baseball. Football and basketball have their problems too.

The lead sports page of an area daily Tuesday contained these stories: 1. Arbitration: a system on the spot. 2. KC fan ready to play hardball with the majors. 3. Young to sue U.S. over contract. 4. Ex-Gator Brown: Lions to blame for holdout. and 5. AWOL Eagles grounded for year.

In each and every story, the sports news of the day pertained to contract or pay disputes and the threatened baseball strike.

This constant squabbling between owners and players and annual strike threats, played out in the pages of the nation's press, becomes more than a little wearisome.

There was even a recent strike by umpires.

A Prairie Village, Kansas, fan is reportedly ready to file a lawsuit seeking $100 million damages from the American and National Leagues and the Major League players Association if the baseball players go on strike.

"I'm just so mad at both the owners and the players. Fans are the ones who are being mistreated," said the fan.

Many fans share the same anger. The longer the sordid displays of money grubbing continue, the greater will be public disenchantment with the whole business.

Which brings us to the crux of the whole matter: Sport has crossed over the boundary from being entertainment to being big business.

Public ardor for pro sports can be expected to cool if something isn't done to stem the volleying of dollar signs.

Major league owners and players should work to put the sport back into sport. Public patience and goodwill have been tested enough already.

Rejoice, pray, and give thanks always

Can we rejoice when thousands have died in America on the highways and tens of thousands have been injured? Can we rejoice when hundreds have died in air accidents? Can we rejoice when we know that these tragedies may not be any less tragic next year? How can we sit down at our dinner tables tonight and give thanks when thousands of our young people are imprisoned across the country for crimes against society?

The Apostle Paul tells the Christians of Thessalonica "Rejoice always, pray constantly, give thanks in all circumstances, for this is the will of God in Christ for you."

Let us look at the reverse side of the above. We can be thankful and rejoice for the concern of our country for the cause of freedom.

We can rejoice for the millions of young people in schools and colleges preparing themselves for service of mankind. We can be thankful for those who are raising their children in a Christian atmosphere.

We can rejoice and give thanks for Christ Jesus who brings people together in houses of worship and not be disappointed because more do not come, remembering that the world was turned upside down by a few men - the 12, the 120, the 500 who saw the risen Lord.

Let's examine the words of Paul. Now Paul was not an ivory tower idealist but a real struggling journeyman on the road of life. He went from a frustrated persecutor of the way to a great exponent of Christianity.

He moved from a student at the feet of Gamaliel to a preacher on Mars Hill. He was beaten, stoned, imprisoned, ship-wrecked, from Jerusalem to Rome.

In suffering and joy Paul can rejoice and give thanks. Thanksgiving is possible for God has willed it in the gift of the Lord Jesus.

Dr. David T. Evans

Everglades Presbyterian Church

The key is a close touch with the source of joy, Jesus Christ. The life of Christ enabled Him to rejoice even in the ordeal of the cross because He was close to the Father. We need a foundation for life.

Paul says pray constantly. This is not just at set times but whenever it is needed. Then take time to listen - remember God must have an opportunity to answer.

Listen to the confident words of Paul, "Have no anxiety about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be known to God." (Phil. 4:6) Remember God keeps His promises.

Time and time again Paul encourages and urges prayer. In prayer we can find thanksgiving through hope in this life and the life to come. In prayer we can stay alert to our purpose, witnessing to others, finding a good and true life in others.

Prayer ought to be the natural reaction to all of God's blessings. Our speaking and doing ought to be dedicated to Christ and giving thanks to the Father for the ability to do anything.

In our rejoicing made possible by praying we can give thanks no matter what happens. Yet

Volunteers needed for shot program

most of us have overwhelming reasons to thank God.

Yet we may be like the father in "Shenandoah" we have worked hard and take credit for the fruit of the land and the hands.

When our superficial strength and courage is dissipated then we know that Christ is the source of our life, our abilities, and deserves our thanks.

Let us rejoice in Christ, pray to God, and in all circumstances give thanks for this is the will of the Father.

50 Plus Club to organize

Volunteers are needed to assist with the pre-school immunization program through the Palm Beach County Health Department.

STEVE HEARSOM honors U-Save employee Bonnie Hawkins.

U-Save names employee of month

BELLE GLADE—A chain-wide incentive program is being initiated in the U-Save Supermarkets to reward productive employees.

Steve Hearsom presented the first employee of the month award to long-time employee Bonnie Hawkins. Hawkins has worked at the local U-Save for 12 years. She is the frozen food clerk.

The selection was made by an independent panel of fellow employees at the store. "I stay out of the selection process," Store Manager Hearsom said. "It is much fairer if the employees make the selection," he added.

One of the committee members said Hawkins was chosen for the first employee honor because she is "always pitching in when she is needed. She is courteous to the customers, cooperates with the other employees, and is always on time."

Hawkins said she has lived in Belle Glade since 1971. Her husband, Roy Hawkins, works for Perkins Oil. They have three children, Roy Jr., Tracey and Steven.

Hawkins was presented a plaque and a letter of recognition signed by Tampa B & B President C.C. Beaver, Jr.

Con men separate woman from $3,000

BELLE GLADE—Police are withholding the name of a woman who was bilked out of $3,000 in cash by two common Friday.

The fraud took place about noon. It began at the 1st American Bank when the victim was confronted by a man who asked the woman if she knew the location of the Post Office.

As she was giving directions, another man approached. Then the second man asked the first man what was inside an envelope he was carrying.

He opened the envelope, revealing $30,000 in cash, all in $1,000 bills.

He then offered the man and the victim $500 each if they wouldn't say anything about the money. He then said he had to go to another business to trade in the money for 5-foot-6-inches tall and smaller bills.

He left and then returned, saying the business had told him to give the other man and the victim $8,000 each. He said they had to put up $4,500 each as a "security deposit."

The man gave the money in cash and his accomplice returned with a package containing $8,000 cash.

The woman then went to the bank and withdrew $3,000. She gave it to the man. He left and returned, saying the owner of the business wanted to personally give the woman her $8,000.

The victim went to the business to wait. No one ever showed up. Police describe to two suspects as a black male, between the ages of 35 and 40. He is

Lyman sets Jr Olympic mark

BELLE GLADE—Evette Lyman, Glades Central High School track standout, continues to turn the heads of college coaches as she blazes new records across the country.

Her latest feat came last month in Seattle, Washington. The senior-to-be set a national Junior Olympic record in the heptathlon.

Lyman, competing in the girls 17 and 18-year-old category, bettered her old mark of 4,810 points with a total of 4,945 points.

More and more, Glades Central athletes are showing that Florida produces some of the finest track and field talent in the nation.

And much of this talent comes from the Glades. Along with Lyman at Seattle, Rechina Johnson placed third in the 100-meter hurdles. She also placed in the running in the 15 and 16-year-old heptathlon event.

Glady's Milton placed ninth in the javelin and eighth in the heptathlon.

Glades track coach Jay Seider, who accompanied his team members to Seattle the last week in July, notes that the girls were closely watched by college coaches throughout the competition.

He says that right now Lyman in particular is in an enviable position as far as her prospects for college.

With her accomplishments in meet after meet she would be an asset to any track team in the country.

All the Glades track and field competitors are fulfilling the two objectives of Track Florida, formed to show the country the best talent can be found in Florida and to bring national attention to this talent.

EVETTE LYMAN

Track Florida consists of 25 of South Florida's finest athletes. Earlier this year in New York they won 33 medals.

This success carried onto Seattle and the Junior Olympics July 24 and 25. The team took 30 medals in Seattle.

Lyman's was recognized in Seattle. She was named outstanding female athlete in her age group.

The Palm Beach County Community Foundation sponsored the team. The foundation donated more than $35,000 to fund the team's trips.

YMCA keeps kids busy

BY GENE ANTONIO

SOUTH BAY—About 40 youngsters this week say good-bye to a summer filled with activities and fun.

Each weekday since June 17 the young people, most between ages eight and 14, have spent their mornings and afternoons playing games, doing craft work, swimming and other fun things through a program sponsored by the YMCA of the Palm Beaches.

Counselor Director for the Y's Glad Day Branch, Gwen Davis, explains the program has been giving South Bay children something to do during their summers for the past 10 years.

She comments, "All the kids have to do is get themselves out of bed in the morning, pack a lunch and catch a bus, the rest is free."

The "base of operations" for the program, which concludes Friday, is John Stretch Park.

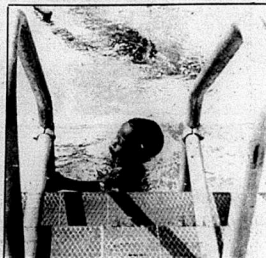

There, under the big pavillion, the young people spend the morning in a variety of activities. They make things, play board games and just generally have a good time.

After lunch it's on to Belle Glade to swim and splash around at the Lake Shore Municipal Swimming Pool.

That's the schedule for everyday but Thursday. On Thursday the kids head for West Palm Beach to see a movie.

Davis, with the YMCA program for five years, says it gives the South Bay kids something to do during the summer and provides an outlet for energy.

Assisting Davis are counselors Florida Thomas, Theresa Thomas and Gerome Govan, who also is the bus driver.

THIS YOUNG SWIMMER is part of a group of about 40 youngsters who participate in a variety of activities through the YMCA of the Palm Beaches.

Fishing with Tennessee

Last Sunday was the scene of a good tournament out of Slim's. Great catches of bass were brought in even though it felt like 100 degrees on the Lake.

First place winners were Jimmy Shelton and Jimmy McMillan with 31 pounds, six ounces. Second place went to Randy Free and Kenny McIntosh for their 30 pounds, 10 ounces and third place was taken by Darrell Mathis and Holmes Parris for 30 pounds, eight ounces.

Other local fishermen who did good were Jeff Hansford and Tai Davis with 25 pounds, four ounces, myself and Gordon Covington with 24 pounds, nine ounces, as well as Chip Lewis and Max Out. Don Tolliver caught the largest fish of the day that weighed in at eight pounds, nine ounces.

Courtesy of Tennessee's Pro Guide Service

A variety of bait was used to lure all these bass including Devil Horses and Rapala. Gambler crawdad worms and Red Shad worms, as well as Chatterbait and white spinner baits.

A good time was had by all and on behalf of all of the fishermen I would like to thank Gordon, Charlie and Nan Corbin for their hard work.

My guide trip this week with Paul, John and George Mix from Mass. did real well for this time of year using shiner. Four good bass were brought in and lots of fun was had.

Here's a good one for you. Can you believe that Mark, J-Mark himself, caught a 14 pound, three ounce mud fish in his peanut patch! Way to go, Grandpa!

Some specks are still being caught on green and yellow jigs. A lot of small bass are being brought in from the real shallow waters using worms and top water lures.

J-Mark Fish Camp has been the scene of some excellent good catches lately, thanks to Eddie Campbell, his wife Sue and son E.L., along with Bubba and Robin, Steve and Ramona and Jim Hardy. Keep up the good works - ya'll know how much I like cook outs.

I've gotten several sponsors from Belle Glade for the Speck Tournament we are putting on. So far, we will have 1,040 fish released from our area.

but we really should have at least 2,000.

This will insure Belle Glade as being the primary area for fishing and will no doubt bring a lot of visitors to Belle Glade businesses.

If you are interested in sponsoring some fish and I haven't contacted you yet, please call me at 996-5357.

Some great prizes will be given away and this could become an annual event for our area.

Until next week, safe boating and good luck fishing.

South Bay—

The mayor also appointed Manager Harrelle and Commissioner Tanner to represent South Bay at hearings on the Beach Bond.

Two city police officers were commended at the commission meeting.

Police Chief Roy Humpston named Corporal Michael Stahl Officer of the Year for 1984.

The chief praised Stahl for his professional police work, his good decision-making and the number of arrests he made.

The chief named Officer William Huggins Officer of the Month for July. He was honored for his outstanding work in "actively pursuing crime."

A city resident asked the commission about the number of mosquitos in the city. He said he has to "bundle up" because of the insects.

City Manager Harrelle noted the city sprays three times a week with a truck and twice a week with a helicopter.

He added, "With the money we have that's it."

Chemical dependency program set for radio

Every community in the nation needs to address alcohol/dependency. Palm Beach County is no exception.

While there are several alcohol/chemical dependency services in the County, the Palm Beach County Community Foundation sees a further, more valuable contribution to be made; the need to bring together these resources to enhance public awareness on these issues.

As a result, the Palm Beach County Community Foundation will sponsor a series of programs to be aired on WPBR (1340 AM) beginning August 18th.

Everett Aspinwall will moderate, with Shannon Sadler, Executive Director of Palm Beach County Community Foundation. Joining them as guest speakers will be the directors of various Palm Beach County alcohol/chemical dependency centers.

A particular aspect of alcohol/chemical dependency will be discussed each program with time for the public to phone-in questions.

Main Street trees donated

BELLE GLADE—A project to beautify Main Street which began about one year ago is reaching its fulfillment as palm trees adorn the thoroughfare.

The Chamber of Commerce began the project last September. They asked local individuals, clubs and businesses to donate one or more trees to be planted on the median of both North and South Main Street.

Since then the planting of the dwarf palm trees has continued steadily.

Chamber Director Jewel Crane explains that the pygmy or dwarf palms were chosen because they grow to between six and seven feet in height.

The Department of Transportation, she notes, allows trees only to that height for medians.

Besides the palms, crown-of-thorns plants and springerferri ferns were planted on each median.

Crane notes one dark aspect to the tree project. Recently a motorist drove into several of the trees.

Crane said police told her it appears the trees were run over deliberately. The police are investigating the incidents, which occurred both on South and North Main.

The Chamber of Commerce has released the following list of the parties who donated trees.

On South Main Street from Avenue E to the South, 73 trees were donated. Each tree was donated at a cost of $27.50.

The Garden Study Club donated five trees. The Belle Glade Garden Club donated nine trees and the Chosen Garden Club donated seven trees.

MacDonalds of Belle Glade, two trees; 1st American Bank, two trees; Glades and Grove, one tree; Royal's Inc. donated seven trees in the name of the Royal's family.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tanner, seven, donated in the name of Donald E. Tanner, Jr. Dr. Donald Piles, seven, in the name of the Piles family. Mrs. Layde Franka, five, in the name of the Crosby Family and Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, seven.

The Beautification Committee donated seven trees in the names of members Edward Foley, Clara Bedsole, Aleese Lane, Alene McAllister, Joseph Perry, Aston Samuels and Ron Snyder. The city of Belle Glade donated five trees in the name of the Maintenance Department.

Ellie Mann and one in the name of Douglas Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mathis donated two trees, one in the name of D.B. Mathis, the father and Delano B. Mathis, the son.

Lucille January donated three trees in the name of the January family; the Junior Women's Club donated one tree and Robert Hooker donated four trees in the name of the Hooker family.

The next phase of the project is to place plaques giving the names of the donors at the ends of the blocks of the medians.

PALM TREES lining the medians on North and South Main Street will soon be dedicated. Helen McCormick, left, and Nancy Creech were among the Belle Glade citizens, organizations and businesses who donated the dwarf palms in the month long project.

Pahokee

Lemon Cups

Years ago, when Dorothy Harvey found this recipe in an old cookbook, Lemon cups have been a big hit in the Harvey family ever since. Mrs. Harvey works at the Lula V. York Memorial Library in Pahokee and has been the head librarian for 15 years.

Ingredients

1 cup sugar
¾ cup flour
one-eighth teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons melted butter
5 tablespoons lemon juice
Grated peel of 1 lemon
3 well-beaten egg yolks
1½ cups milk, scalded
3 stiff-beaten egg whites

Combine sugar, flour, salt, and butter; add lemon juice and peel. Add to combined egg yolks and milk; mix well.

Fold in egg whites and pour into greased custard cups. Bake in pan of hot water in moderate oven (325 degrees) for 45 minutes.

When baked, each dessert will have custard on the bottom and sponge cake on top.

This may be baked in a greased shallow baking dish. Serves 8.

Crab Spread

Crab Spread is the favorite recipe of Phyllis Lilley, head librarian at the Belle Glade Municipal Library. She has worked at the library for 7½ years and says that this recipe was first used as a dip in her family, but later on developed into a spread.

Ingredients

5 oz. cooked shredded crab, fresh or canned
(may substitute Crab Supreme or Sticks)
½ cup mayonnaise
8 oz. cream cheese
2 tablespoons horseradish

Soften cream cheese, blend with mayonnaise and horseradish. Add the cooked shredded crab. Keep warm in a chafing dish or fondue pot.

Serve with crackers, rye, pumpernickle rounds, or toasted English muffins.

The crab spread can also be served cold.

Grapenut Pudding

Yvonne Smith, volunteer librarian at the Glades County Public Library in Moore Haven, says this was her mother-in-law's favorite recipe. Mrs. Smith has been a volunteer and employee at the library for seven years.

Ingredient

1 cup Grapenuts cereal
2 eggs
1 cup granulated sugar
2 cups milk
1 cup raisins
1 tablespoon vanilla
One-half teaspoon salt

Stir all ingredients together and bake in a pan until it is firm, just like a custard for pie. (If an aluminum pan is used, bake at 350 degrees; if a glass pan, bake at 325 degrees for one hour and 20 minutes.)

Dressing

1 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 pint boiling water
1 teaspoon vanilla

Boil until it become thick. Layer pudding and dressing to serve.

Understanding government meat grading helps shoppers

You can shop more economically for your family - and yourself, too - if you know the differences among government food grades.

Knowing the differences can mean better eating, too. Depending on how you plan to use a product you buy, a lower grade may not only meet your needs, but be cheaper as well.

Take beef, for instance. USDA Prime, the top USDA grade, is the ultimate in tenderness, juiciness and flavor.

While Prime is best for roasting or broiling, it's likely to cost more than the second grade. USDA Choice, which has slightly less marbling. Marbling is the flecks of fat within the lean that make meat tender and juicy.

Some stores sell beef that would qualify for other U.S. grades, such as U.S. Good, under a house brand name rather than under the USDA grade mark - this beef will have less fat, be lower in calories and will likely cost less than Prime or Choice. It could meet your needs well, particularly if you use slow, moist cooking to make it tender.

In establishing grades for food products like meat, poultry, eggs, fruits, vegetables and dairy products, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service considers the values that wholesale buyers and sellors place on the products.

Generally, products with characteristics of the higher grades are more marketable and bring a better price for the producer.

Wholesale buyers and sellers, specify certain grades in their contracts, often made by telephone, over long distances. Buyers for retail food stores food stores commonly use the grades when they place food orders, as do buyers for feeding establishments like hospitals, schools and airlines.

USDA and their counterparts in cooperating state agencies provide official grading service to packers and processors who request it, and the plants pay a fee for the grader's time and expenses.

Do the grades that the official graders assign in food plants carry-over to the retail store?

Labeling of the grade on a product isn't required by federal law even if a food has been officially graded. But a number of food manufacturers and distributors choose to put the official grade on their products, as do many retailers.

As a food shopper, you're most likely to see the USDA grade on beef, veal, lamb, broilers, turkeys, eggs and butter. You also may see it on some cheese, instant nonfat dry milk, preserves, frozen concentrated orange juice and canned and frozen fruits and vegetables.

Some fresh produce also is grade labeled, particularly potatoes and apples. Food shoppers should be familiar with these grades:

* Butter - USDA Grade AA and A. Grade AA has a delicate, sweet flavor. The next grade, A, is almost as good - having a pleasing flavor - and usually sells for less.

* Cheese - Grades AA and A also apply, but only a few stores carry graded cheese.

* Dry milk - The U.S. Extra Grade name or shield may be used on instant nonfat dry milk, meaning the product has a sweet and pleasing flavor and that it dissolves immediately when mixed with water.

* Eggs - U.S. Grade AA eggs, the top quality, have thick whites, firm yolks and are practically free from defects. They also have clean, unbroken shells. U.S. Grade A eggs are almost as good, and this is the grade you'll see most often. Grade AA and A eggs are especially attractive when you're frying them "sunny-side up," while the lower U.S. Grade B eggs, if available, are good for scrambling and baking, where appearance isn't so important. Egg sizes, incidentally, have nothing to do with grades, but officially graded eggs are also checked for size.

* Poultry - U.S. Grade A Poultry, the top quality, is fully fleshed and meaty and has a better appearance than Grades B or C. The lower grades are rarely sold in the retail market as whole.

* Processed fruits, vegetables - Qualities are U.S. Grade A, B, and C. Only a few packers put the grades on their retail containers of canned, frozen and dried products even though many processing plants use the grades and USDA grading services for quality control purposes. Most processed fruits and vegetables that are graded are at least Grade B quality, and that's quite good. The difference between A and B: A has a better appearance and texture than B, so U.S. Grade A products can be used in special meals or dishes for which looks and texture are important. Grade C products are fairly good quality, and are just as nutritious as the higher grades, and they sell for less. Grades B & C are generally sold as a second storebrand label or generic (no brand) product.

* Fresh fruits and vegetables - The typical range of grades is U.S. Fancy, U.S. No. 1 and U.S. No. 2. U.S. No. 1 is the chief trading grade for most of these products, while U.S. Fancy is a premium quality.
